Far away in the tropical waters of the Caribbean, 2 prawns, Justin and Christian, were swimming around in the sea. They were constantly harassed and threatened by patrolling sharks. Finally Justin said to Christian, "I'm bored and frustrated at being a prawn, I wish I was a shark, then I wouldn't have any worries about being eaten..." As Justin had his mind firmly on becoming a predator, a mysterious cod appears and says, "Your wish is granted," and lo and behold, Justin turned into a shark. Horrified, Christian immediately swam away, afraid of being eaten by his old mate.

Time went on (as it invariably does) and Justin found himself bored and lonely as a shark. All his old mates swam away whenever he came near. While out swimming alone one day he sees the mysterious cod again and can't believe his luck. Justin figured it could change him back into a prawn. He begs the cod to do so, and lo and behold, he is turned back into a prawn.

With tears of joy in his tiny little eyes, Justin swam back to his friends and bought them all a cocktail. (The punch line does not involve a shrimp cocktail - it's much worse!) Looking around the gathering at the reef, he searched for his old pal. "Where's Christian?" he asked.

"At home, distraught that his best friend changed sides to become a shark."

Eager to put things right again, he set off to Christian's house. He banged on the door and shouted, "It's me, Justin, your old friend, come out and see me again."

"Christian replied 'No way man, you'll eat me. You're a shark, the enemy - and I'll not be tricked.'"

Justin cried back: "No, I'm not. That was the old me. I've changed ... 'I've found Cod. I'm a prawn again, Christian".

Things I Have Learned In 50 Years (by Dave Barry)

1. The badness of a movie is directly proportional to the number of helicopters in it.
2. You will never find anybody who can give you a clear and compelling reason why we observe daylight-saving time.
3. People who feel the need to tell you that they have an excellent sense of humor are telling you that they have no sense of humor.
4. The most valuable function performed by the federal government is entertainment.
5. You should never say anything to a woman that even remotely suggests you think she's pregnant unless you can see an actual baby emerging from her at that moment.
6. A penny saved is worthless.
7. Nobody cares if you can't dance well. Just get up and dance.
8. The most powerful force in the universe is gossip.
9. The one thing that unites all human beings, regardless of age, gender, religion, economic status or ethnic background is that, deep down inside, we all believe we are above-average drivers.
10. There comes a time when you should stop expecting other people to make a big deal about your birthday. That time is age 11.
11. There is a very fine line between "hobby" and "mental illness."
12. People who want to share their religious views with you almost never want you to share yours with them.
13. Nobody is normal.
14. At least once a year, some group of scientists will become very excited and announce that:
 - * The universe is even bigger than they thought!
 - * There are even more subatomic particles than they thought!
 - * Whatever they announced last year about global warming is wrong!
15. If you had to identify, in one word, the reason why the human race has not achieved - and never will - its full potential, that word would be meetings.
16. The main accomplishment of almost all organized protests is to annoy people who are not in them.
17. The value of advertising is that it tells you the exact opposite of what the advertiser actually thinks. For example:
 - If the advertisement says "This is not your father's Oldsmobile," the advertiser is desperately concerned that this Oldsmobile, like all other Oldsmobiles, appeals primarily to old farts like your father.

- If Coke and Pepsi spend billions of dollars to convince you that there are significant differences between these 2 products, both companies realize that Pepsi and Coke are virtually identical.
- If the advertisement strongly suggests that Nike shoes enable athletes to perform amazing feats, Nike wants you to disregard the fact that shoe brand is unrelated to athletic ability.
- If Budweiser runs an elaborate advertising campaign stressing the critical importance of a beer's "born-on" date, Budweiser knows this factor has virtually nothing to do with how good a beer tastes.

18. If there really is a God who created the entire universe with all of its glories, and He decides to deliver a message to humanity, He will not use _____ as His messenger, a person on cable TV with a bad hairstyle.

19. You should not confuse your career with your life.

20. A person who is nice to you, but rude to the waiter, is not a nice person.

21. No matter what happens, somebody will find a way to take it too seriously.

22. When trouble arises and things look bad, there is always one individual who perceives a solution and is willing to take command. Very often, that individual is crazy.

23. Your friends love you anyway.

WHAT DO ESKIMOS GET FROM SITTING ON THE ICE TOO LONG? Polaroids.

WHY DON'T BLIND PEOPLE LIKE TO SKY DIVE? It scares the hell out of the dog.

WHAT GOES CLOP, CLOP, CLOP, BANG, BANG, CLOP, CLOP, CLOP?

What I have learned as I have matured...

I've learned that you cannot make someone love you. All you can do is stalk them and hope they panic and give in.

I've learned that no matter how much I care, some people are just assholes.

I've learned that it takes years to build up trust, and it only takes suspicion, not proof, to destroy it.

I've learned that you can get by on charm for about fifteen minutes. After that, you'd better be well endowed.

I've learned that you shouldn't compare yourself to others - they are more screwed up than you think.

I've learned that you can keep vomiting long after you think you're finished.

I've learned that we are responsible for what we do, unless we're celebrities.

I've learned that regardless of how hot and steamy a relationship is at first, the passion fades - and there had better be a lot of money to take its place.

I've learned that 99% of the time when something isn't working in your house, one of your kids did it.

I've learned that the people you care most about in life are taken from you too soon and all the less important ones just never go away.

Everything I Need To Know I Learned From The Easter Bunny

Don't put all of your eggs in one basket.

Walk softly and carry a big carrot.

Everyone needs a friend who is all ears.

There's no such thing as too much candy.

All work and no play can make you a basket case.
A cute little tail attracts a lot of attention.
Everyone is entitled to a bad hare day.
Let happy thoughts multiply like rabbits.
Some body parts should be floppy.
Keep your paws off other people's jellybeans.
The grass is always greener in someone else's basket.
An Easter bonnet can tame even the wildest hare.
To show your true colors you have to come out of your shell.
The best things in life are still sweet and gooey!

Each year the Washington Post's Style Invitational asks readers to take any word from the dictionary, alter it by changing only one letter and supply a new definition. Here are the 2001 winners:

Intaxication: Euphoria at getting a tax refund, which lasts until you realize it was your money to start with.

Reintarnation: Coming back to life as a hillbilly.

Foreploy: Any misrepresentation about yourself for the purpose of getting laid.

Giraffiti: Vandalism spray-painted very, very high up.

Sarchasm: A gulf between the author of sarcastic wit and the person who doesn't get it.

Glibido: All talk and no action.

Dopeer Effect: The tendency of stupid ideas to seem smarter when they come at you rapidly.

nd, the winner of the Washington Post's Style Invitational.....

Ignoramus: A person who's both stupid and an ass hole.

It is well documented that for every minute that you exercise, you add one minute to your life. This enables you at 85 years old to spend an additional 5 months in a nursing home at $5000 per month.

The only reason I'd take up exercising is so that I could hear heavy breathing again.

I joined a health club last year, spent about 400 bucks. Haven't lost a pound. Apparently you have to go there.

I have to exercise early in the morning before my brain figures out what I'm doing.

I like long walks, especially when they're taken by people who annoy me.

I have flabby thighs, but fortunately my stomach covers them.

The advantage of exercising every day is that you die healthier.

If you are going to try cross-country skiing, start with a small country.

And last but not least: I don't exercise because it makes the ice jump right out of my glass.
